

Daniel Joensen

Managing Director, Jetty Capital
Screening Committee, Band of Angels

Angel Investment in High-Tech

What is angel investing? How do angel groups work, and what do they invest in? How do they invest and how to get in front of an angel/angel group? What are the advantages of angel investment in contrast to friends/family and VC investing? Daniel Joensen has been working high tech startups for over 20 years as a founder, investor and senior executive. Daniel helped create early local area network and groupware applications for financial institutions in the '80s and has been involved with technology-based early stage companies since. He has a keen understanding of resource allocation, optimization, finance and the value of customers and how this applies to the process of starting and growing a technology-based company. He is a member of the Band of Angels' Screening Committee and a member of the Sand Hill Angels. He has been a panelist or speaker at angel, entrepreneurship and venture capital events.

Thursday, July 2, 2009 - 12:00 to 1:00 pm
Byers Hall Room 212
UCSF - Mission Bay

Lunch provided, but space is limited so please reserve a seat at <http://www.acteva.com/booking.cfm?bevalD=185587>